

At Moena we make your meal to order with high quality ingredients. We invite you to relax and enjoy your time with your dining companions. Make it an experience, not just a great meal!

Here are some of our philosophies regarding food:

Seafood:

Fish: We source most of our fish from northern Europe, where it is farmed and processed. Although it is farmed, the farmers do not use antibiotics unless absolutely necessary. Fish from Asia and South America is typically given antibiotics on a regular basis to counteract the conditions in which they are raised.

Did you know that most “wild caught in the United States” fish is processed in China? The fish is caught here, frozen and shipped to China, thawed, processed, re-frozen and sent back!

Shellfish: Nearly all of our shellfish is wild-caught in the United States. Our scallops come from the Atlantic coast, while our shrimp and crab come from Louisiana’s Gulf Coast. It is much more expensive than farm-raised Asian shellfish, but we truly believe that the quality makes it worth the cost. There are instances where we use Asian shrimp (typically breaded shrimp), but our menu will identify that.

Beef/Pork/Chicken:

All of our beef, pork and chicken is sourced in the United States. On a limited scale we do try to support our local suppliers. For example our house-made Bolognese sauce is made with ground pork from Hidden Star Farms in Olanta, Pennsylvania, and ground beef from Kerr Cattle Co. in Clearfield, Pennsylvania. Although we cannot source all of our beef and pork locally, we support our local producers the best we can!

Pasta:

We offer Angel Hair, Fettuccine, and Penne as our dried pasta shapes. In addition, we offer house-made fresh pasta from our bronze-die Italian pasta extruder. While both are delicious, our house-made fresh pasta is a different texture which most people enjoy.

Allergens:

We are cognizant of common allergies in our world today. Because of that we offer gluten-free pasta, which is applicable to many of our pasta-based dishes. Our menu spells out most options that may accommodate you. We understand that there are many other allergies, and we are happy to accommodate you on a case-by-case basis.
